Women of the Land
Goal

Combine information on land management with skill-based outdoor recreation in a venue that encourages women to become active land managers, develop and hone their management skills and network with women of similar interests.
Workshop Opportunities:

• From the Ground Up
  - Workshops will focus on the study of healthy habitat fundamentals that work to support healthy wildlife populations, agricultural practices and water.
  - Instructors introduce topics that help landowners and managers become better land stewards and as they manage their natural resources.

• Tools of Conservation
  - Aldo Leopold, the father of modern wildlife management published Game Management in 1933. In it he quotes "...game (wildlife) can be restored by the creative use of the same tools which have heretofore destroyed it- axe, cow, plow, fire, and gun." Each workshop will focus on one of the 5 tools.
  - Workshop will provide greater hands-on opportunities such as operating ranch equipment, wildlife harvest management, building ranch improvements like rainwater harvester systems, rotational grazing systems, etc.
All workshops include:

- Networking with state, federal and private conservation professionals
- Time to socialize and get to know your fellow landowners
- Beautiful and unique venues
Empowers women, shares land stewardship strategies and creates a community of like-minded individuals.
