

Adaptation Investigations Test

1. The sharp, curved bill of this Red-tailed Hawk skull is adapted for eating _____.
- A. Seeds
 - B. Meat
 - C. Insects
 - D. Plants

2. What is the proper term for when an animal has special coloration to blend in with its environment?
- A. Mimicry
 - B. Illusion
 - C. Disguise
 - D. Camouflage

3. When observing a mammal's skull, which type of tooth indicates that the animal eats meat?
- A. Canine
 - B. Incisor
 - C. Molar
 - D. Pre-molar

4. Which skull belongs to an herbivore and why?
- A. (A) – It has sharp teeth for tearing up meat
 - B. (B) – It has flat teeth for grinding up plants
 - C. (A) – It has small teeth for tearing up plants
 - D. (B) – It has large teeth for chewing up meat

5. Of these three animals (mountain lion, raccoon, and beaver) select the answer which correctly places them in order: carnivore-herbivore-omnivore?
- A. Mountain lion - raccoon – beaver
 - B. Beaver - raccoon - mountain lion
 - C. Mountain lion - beaver - raccoon
 - D. Raccoon - beaver - mountain lion